Subject: Attending VoxxedBelgrade 2016 in September.

Dear <Manager>,

I would like for you to take into account my presence at the VoxxedDays Belgrade conference which is taking place this September 28-30 in Belgrade, Serbia. It's premier event for industry professionals and the most forward-thinking IT experts from all around the world.

The Conference is an initiative from the Devovx community and it was recognized as the biggest, best organized and most creative of all Voxxed conferences in 2015. This year it will be packed with more than 30 talks and workshops, including regarding Emerging Architectures, Disruptive Machines, Software World as well as IT relevant business topics (<https://belgrade.voxxeddays.com/info/>).

I see Voxxed Days Belgrade as a great opportunity to learn the key technical information and gain knowledge which can enhance my performance, grow my skills and increase our development productivity. (I suggest we go over the full schedule (<https://belgrade.voxxeddays.com/speakers/>) in order to determine which sections will benefit the company most.)

In addition, the Voxxed Days Belgrade is an invaluable possibility to network with local and international partners and create future opportunities which will reflect favorably on our company. Upon returning I will make a presentation featuring the speaker's keynotes which will be openly shared with my fellow colleagues.

Thank you for considering my request. If I'm able to attend, I think you and I will both find that this was an extremely worthwhile investment and one that we may consider repeating year after year.

Thanks you in advance,
<Your name>
